

COURT'S DECREE GIVES HOSPITAL CLEAR TITLE

TO LAND BEQUEATHED THAT INSTITUTION BY LATE KATHERIN J. SHAW.

ANNA ANTONIUS GIVEN DIVORCE

Docket Read Monday Afternoon and Additional Cases Were Set for Trial.

The Dixon hospital, as a result of a decree granted this morning by Judge Farrand in the circuit court, now has a clear title to the land bequeathed that institution by the late Katherin J. Shaw. The suit for quit title on the farms of the deceased in South Dixon and Marion townships, was brought by George C. Dixon, executor of the estate, against Thos. Rogers and his heirs. After hearing the evidence Judge Farrand granted the decree and the hospital will now be enabled to give a clear title for the property.

Divorce Granted. This morning the court also heard the evidence in the divorce case of Anna Antonius vs. Mike Antonius and granted the decree, the defendant defaulting. Attorney John P. Devine represented Mrs. Antonius.

More Cases Set for Trial. The docket was read against yesterday afternoon and the following additional cases set for trial: Monday, May 13—Lass vs. Virden. Tuesday, May 14—Haynes vs. Bowser.

Wednesday, May 15—Herzfeldt vs. Herzfeldt.

Thursday, May 16—Ehman vs. American Insurance company.

Watkins Case to Jury. The Watkins Medical Co. vs. Miller and Beatty case which was taken up yesterday afternoon, consumed considerable time, the attorneys not taking up their arguments until this morning. The case went to the jury at 10:30 o'clock.

Insurance Case Up. Following the verdict of the case of W. R. Parker et al vs. the American Patriots was called and the following jury was accepted: John E. Mann, Wm. Floto, M. L. Dysart, Sam Mall, Cornelius Fielding, August Schaffer, Harry Weyant, Scott Morris, Elmer Hendrix, Fred Fuestman, David Billmire and Frank Planck.

Harmon Woman to Teach School Mother Taught

One of the most remarkable incidents in the schools of this vicinity has occurred at the Kimball school near Harmon. As a passing news item it would not be of very great interest to notice that Miss Anna Long of Harmon had been engaged to teach this school for the coming year, but when the family history is considered, it makes a most interesting story and through it there runs a story of devotion, of remarkable efforts, and it is closely allied with the family history of R. W. Long of Harmon.

His First School. Many years ago, when R. W. Long was a boy scarcely six years old, he started to school in the Kimball, and remained until he was 21 years old. After he had attained his majority and while still attending school, he was elected school director. And the first duty as school director was the engaging of a splendid teacher. And so well did the new teacher do her work and so well was Mr. Long satisfied that after she had taught a few terms Mr. Long and the teacher became husband and wife.

Send Children to School. The children that brought happiness into this home, five in number, attended this school and all passed successful graduating tests and have left the school to fight their life's battles. All of the children graduated with high honors.

Never Missed a Day. And now Miss Anna, who has never missed a day during all of the years engaged to teach the school for the coming year.

Not only were they perfect in attendance but they were never tardy. This is another one of the remarkable circumstances. And now at the age of 48 years, Mr. Long's daughter goes into the school room to take the place where her mother taught twenty-seven years ago.

Many Years a Director. Mr. Long, after being elected a director, left the school and fought the battles of life and became one of the most successful men of the community. But he had great faith in Kimball school and his record as director of that school extends over a period of over a quarter of a century, or 27 years.

Mr. Long Satisfied. Mr. Long points with pride to his record in the school and to the remarkable record of his family. The first teacher he employed is now the mother of his splendid family of five children and the mother of the teacher who assumes the duties that her mother assumed over a quarter of a century ago. Mr. Long, therefore, has every reason to be well satisfied and it is with a feeling of pride that he looks backward and well can he say that his life has not been spent in vain. Mr. Long and his estimable family have hundreds of friends in Whiteside and Lee counties who congratulate them on the remarkable record.

MISS HARRIET QUIMBY

Miss Quimby, the first woman to win a pilot's license in America, has added to her laurels by flying alone across the English channel, being the first woman to perform that feat.

The plaintiffs in the case, who are represented by Attorney H. A. Brooks, are former officers of the defunct Fraternal Parliament which was organized in this city and Sterling about two years ago. They are Dr. W. R. Parker, Dr. Donovan, C. C. Brooks and John Edwin of Dixon and Dr. C. E. Parker and Harry Trude of Sterling.

Their claim is that the American Patriots, to which insurance company the Fraternal Parliament was turned over, agreed to give them $850 in consideration of their using their influence to have old members of the Parliament transfer their policies to the Patriots. The defense, represented by Attorney Winn, main tains that no such agreement was entered into.

SMITHS RETURN HOME. E. W. Smith and daughter arrived home last evening from Florida, where they have been spending the winter. Both appear to have been greatly benefitted by the sojourn in the south.

HOME FROM WEST. George Clark arrived home last evening from a month's visit in Seattle and other points in the west. He has many interesting stories of life in that section of the country, but says he is perfectly satisfied to be back in good old Illinois.

CANCELS PASSAGE ON BOAT TITANIC

THIS LEE COUNTY MAN IN ALL PROBABILITY ESCAPED DEATH.

LARS FRISWIG IS THIS MAN

Lee Citizen Now Rejoices That His Friends Persuaded Him to Take Another Boat.

Had it not been for the desire to please a long time friend in the old country Lee county, in all probability, would have had a citizen among those who now lie at the bottom of the ocean, victims of the Titanic disaster. Lars Friswig of Lee is the man who escaped death. Friswig went to Europe last fall to visit his old home. This spring his visit came to an end and he made all arrangements to board the Titanic for America. A close friend whom he had not seen, heard of his visit to the scene of his boyhood days and learning that he was ready to depart for his home in this country persuaded him to cancel his passage on the Titanic and wait for a later boat, spending the intervening time with his friend. This was done after much persuasion.

Today Mr. Friswig is delighted to think that he met this friend, who insisted on his remaining a short time longer in the old country.

If the program as outlined by Mr. West's friends materializes, he will be the choice of Illinois when the republican national convention meets at Chicago in June.

ANNUAL MEETING OF ASSOCIATION

ADJOURNED FOR THREE WEEKS TO CONSIDER PROPOSED BY-LAWS AMENDMENT.

At the meeting of the Citizens' association last evening a sentiment in favor of changing the by-laws of the organization so that hereafter the term of the nine directors will not expire at the same time, and accordingly an amendment was presented, which, if passed, will change the laws so that the terms of three of the directors will expire yearly.

The probability of the change being made caused the officers to feel that the members should have some time to consider it, and accordingly the annual meeting was adjourned for three weeks from last night, at which time the amendment will be voted upon, the officers will make their reports of the work that has been done and their plans for the future, and the new directors will be elected.

CLARK'S TEAM MEETS STERLING SATURDAY

FIRST HIGH SCHOOL GAME HERE ON ATHLETIC PARK DIAMOND.

Manager Joe Clark of the Dixon Union High School baseball team has about completed all arrangements for the first game of the season. The game will be played here, at Athletic park, Saturday afternoon with the team from the Sterling high school. The game will be called at 2:30 and it is expected a large number of fans will be on hand to witness the defeat of the visiting team.

Coach Bailey will select his men Friday afternoon on the practice field. The boys are guessing who the lucky ones will be who will be drawn into this battle on the diamond.

Manager Clark has made arrangements to play games with DeKalb and Pawpaw. Other games will be arranged for later with well known teams.

The local boys have been doing effective practice and all are in good trim.

EICHENBERG MOWS LAWN TODAY

BEGAN TO CUT THE GRASS AT THE COURT HOUSE TODAY.

The sound of the lawn mower is in the air. At least it was prevalent all day in the vicinity of the court house, for Janitor George Eichenberg today gave the lawn its first mowing of the season. Mr. Eichenberg has put the lawn in excellent condition and it is now ahead of most of the yards in the city.

BRIDGE SUPPORTERS GIVE WAY

FORRESTON FARMER PREVENTS I. C. TRAIN FROM GOING INTO DITCH.

Several arches supporting one of the Illinois Central railroad bridges at Forreston gravel pit gave way on Sunday morning and had it not been for the timely notification sent to the division officers by a Forreston farmer a train might have been dished. It was necessary to send a crew of men to repair the bridge.

C. C. COUNTRYMAN PAYS DIXON A VISIT

HE SEEKS "BILLY" LORIMER'S PLACE IN THE U. S. SENATE.

AUTHOR, RECITER, IMPERSONATOR

Wears a Silk Hat, Is a Fine Looking Fellow and Believes People Need Him.

Carl C. Countryman of Chicago, who some time ago announced himself as a candidate for William Lorimer's place in the United States senate, is in Dixon calling on friends. Mr. Countryman visited the Telegraph office and declared that he was an avowed candidate.

Who is Carl C. Countryman?

He is a defeated candidate for congress from the sixteenth district of Illinois.

He is an author, reciter and impersonator. He gives gospel talks.

If you see a man on the street here today wearing a silk hat, that is Mr. Countryman.

Mr. Countryman announced his candidacy in this manner.

I, Carl C. Countryman, by the grace of the gang and by the power of gold defeated candidate for the republican nomination for the office of congressman from the 16th district of Illinois, undismayed by reverse under the existing circumstances, greatly encouraged by the response of the people insofar as it has been possible to reach them and more than ever resolved to spend myself for good government, do hereby announce myself as a candidate for the office of United States senator in the place of Wm. Lorimer before the republican primaries of April 14, 1914.

PIERCE GETS A JAIL SENTENCE

WILL BE A GUEST OF SHERIFF REED FOR 10 DAYS, SENTENCED BY SCOTT.

Lynn Pierce was yesterday afternoon taken before Judge Scott in the Lee county court, where he entered a plea of guilty to larceny. He was sentenced by the court to pay a fine of $1 and to serve a sentence of 10 days in the county jail. Pierce is the lad who robbed the Harms hotel at Franklin Grove, securing about $7 in cash and a valuable meerschaum pipe.

Engineers Accept Offer Of Tendered Meditation

New York, April 23.—The offer of the "friendly offices" of representatives of the federal government called at least a temporary halt here in plans for a strike of railroad engineers in all territory east of Chicago and north of the Potomac river, in which it is estimated that 52 per cent. of the railway traffic of the entire country is handled.

The mediation of federal officials came after the refusal of the managers of fifty railroads concerned to concede the engineers' demands for an 18 per cent. increase in wages, and after Chief Warren S. Stone of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers had announced that in view of this refusal a strike of engineers would go into effect within thirty-six hours.

Knapp Offers Mediation. Knowing the situation had reached a critical stage, Martin A. Knapp, presiding justice of the United States commerce court and Charles P. Neill, United States commissioner of labor, had hurried to New York from Washington. As soon as the decisive break occurred they addressed a letter to both Chief Stone and J. C. Stuart, chairman of the conference committee of railroad managers, declaring that a grave situation had arisen and that the sense of duty impelled them to offer their "friendly offices" to the contending parties in the hope that some means may be found to adjust the matter in dispute without the calamity of a general strike.

Engineers Accept Offer.

Although Chief Stone had declared that his forty-nine associates on the engineers' committee would proceed at once to their headquarters to prepare for a strike within thirty-six hours, he was impressed with the letter of Messrs. Knapp and Neill to the extent that he amended the order, declaring the committee would remain intact to consider the situation. He said "no organization is so strong that it can fail to hearken to an appeal from representatives of the federal government," and declared that he would place the proposition before the engineers' committee, with the recommendation that it be accepted. For this purpose he immediately called the committee together.

At this meeting the engineers' committee voted to accept the offer of mediation. It was decided, however, not to make a formal announcement until today.

Railway Man Delays Reply. Chairman Stuart would not comment on what position the railroads would take as to mediation. He ordered a meeting of the committee for today, however, to consider the proposal.

In this manner the crisis rested, regarded by many observers as critical, but by others as promising some sort of adjustment. Commissioner Neill was pleased with the outlook for mediation, but did not outline in just what way he expected to carry it out if both parties were conciliatory.

WEAKLY WOMEN

are likely to find life and its duties a burden. To be tied down to the house day in and day out may turn even home into a prison! Women require a little change.

However some people think poor health is Fate's decree! At any rate to see others blithe and buoyant going while they suffer, certainly points that way.

But, be that as it may, Fate loses his power when Understanding comes to dwell with us. That you may enjoy life as others do, a few moments of my time are yours freely.

His Tenth Birthday.

Yesterday was the tenth birthday anniversary of Victor Eichler, son of Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Eichler, of North Hennepin avenue. Yesterday afternoon he entertained six of his little playmates, belonging to the Little Elks club, at tea. These boys are very fond of sports and have a baseball club. The dining table was beautifully decorated in the gay spring colors and the boys all had a jolly time. There was a huge chocolate birthday cake which was the crowning feature of the feast and the good things provided by Mrs. Eichler disappeared like magic before the extremely healthy young appetites. Afterward games were enjoyed and a peanut hunt afforded much amusement. Carl Santee was the fortunate boy who found the most peanuts. After spending a happy afternoon the guests wished their little host farewell and wished him many happy returns of the day.

The jury brought in a verdict at 1:30 o'clock finding the issues for the medicine company and assessing the damages against the defendants at $820.60.

MASSACRE 100 JEWS

Moors in Revolt at Moroccan Capital of Fez.

Rebel Against the French, Sack City and Kill and Wound Hundreds—Parade Heads on Pikes.

Paris, April 23.—The revolution in Fez, the Moroccan capital, in which the populace and a large number of mutinous Moorish soldiers participated, developed into a veritable massacre, accompanied by many atrocities, according to a wireless dispatch received from Fez at the foreign office here.

Fifteen French officers and 40 soldiers were killed in the fighting, while 13 civilians, all French citizens, and 400 Jews, were massacred in their homes or in the streets.

Besides, four French officers and 70 soldiers were wounded and a large number of Jews were mutilated.

Four or five telegraphers at Fez, as well as those attached to the wireless station, were massacred at their posts of duty.

The heads of all the Europeans slain by the native troops were paraded through the streets on pikes.

Mrs. Joseph Lett of Sublette is visiting her son, Max Lett.

Mr. and Mrs. Jake Henert of Ashton were here today.

DOCTORS ADVISE OPERATIONS

Saved by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Swarthmore, Penn. — "For fifteen years I suffered untold agony, and for one period of nearly two years I had hemorrhages and the doctors told me I would have to undergo an operation, but I began taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and am in good health now. I am all over the Change of Life and cannot praise your Vegetable Compound too highly. Every woman should take it at that time. I recommend it to both old and young for female troubles."—Mrs. EMILY SUMMERSGILL, Swarthmore, Pa.

Baltimore, Md. — "My troubles began with the loss of a child, and I had hemorrhages for four months. The doctors said an operation was necessary, but I dreaded it and decided to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. The medicine has made me a well woman and I feel strong and do my own work."—Mrs. J. R. PICKING, 1260 Sargeant St., Baltimore, Md.

Since we guarantee that all testimonials which we publish are genuine, is it not fair to suppose that if Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has the virtue to help these women it will help any other woman who is suffering in a like manner?

If you want special advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

FAMILY THEATRE

"An excellent show" was the verdict of two large houses that witnessed the triple bill at the Family last night and the management may expect capacity houses for the balance of their engagement.

The bill consists of the Three Musical Kids, who play harp, violin and cello and render a fine program. The bowery Trio, three vocalists whose voices are well blended and produce excellent harmony, and the Ernest Alvo Troupe, acrobats, whose work is decidedly new, interesting and far above the average.

PRINCESS THEATRE.

The Princess theatre will offer tomorrow matinee and night, the special attraction of The Indian Massacre, in two reels, a great pictured drama of frontier life showing the massacre of pioneers by the redskins and the thrilling rescue of a white child from the Indian camp and the terrible vengeance of the white settlers meted out to the savage. All through the film runs a beautiful story of mother love.

For this evening a picture of great interest will be shown, entitled Shamous O'Brien, a story taken from the famous poem by Samuel Lover, in two reels. This picture is an Irish patriotic drama of the Irish revolution, filled with humor and pathos.

HOPE GONE FOR 5 IN MINE

Suffocated, if Not Instantly Killed by Explosion, Say Comrades.

Madisonville, Ky., April 23.—No hope is felt for the five miners, one white and four negroes, entombed in the mines of the Coll Coal company, near here, after an explosion of gas or dynamite, which shook the city and was heard for many miles. Within ten minutes after the men had gone to the bottom of the shaft the workmen outside were stunned by a terrific explosion and the air was full of flying debris. The machinery was out of working order at the top. Even if the men were not killed instantly, miners say, they have suffocated.

CYCLONE KILLS IN ALABAMA

Strikes Mining Towns Early in Day—Houses in One Destroyed.

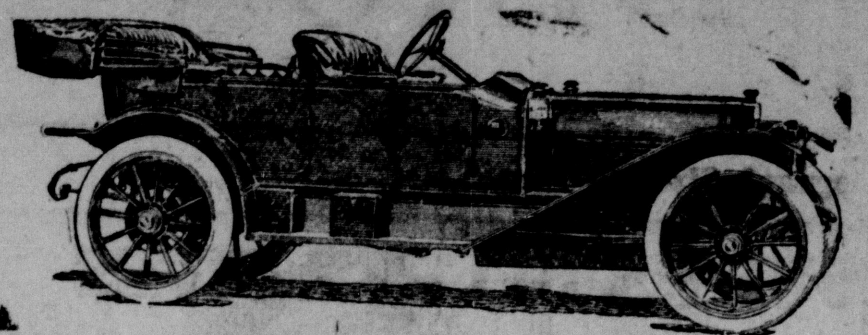

Birmingham, Ala., April 23.—A cyclonic wind has passed over Adamsville, Hineckney City, Jutown, Brookside and several other mining towns in this district. Incomplete reports say 12 to 15 persons were killed and a number hurt. Twenty houses were destroyed at Brookside.

Negro Girl Stops Train.

Gary, Ind., April 23.—Edna Johnson, a colored girl sixteen years old, probably saved the lives of scores of people, when standing on the bridge of the Pennsylvania railroad over the Calumet river which was on fire, she brought the Chicago-New York limited to a stop.

Federals Moving on Juarez.

El Paso, Tex., April 23.—A hundred additional federal soldiers have been ordered to Juarez from Casas Grandes to defend the city. Reports are that federals are coming from Ojinaga, east of Juarez, to attack the town.

If You Eat You Need Digestit The New Relief For Indigestion

It has been stated that more than eighty million people in the United States are victims of some form of indigestion. The American people do not take time enough to eat. The result is stomach distress, gas, belching indigestion and dyspepsia. Digestit is the new relief—it has been found a certain, quick and permanent remedy. Thousands of people have found relief from its use. Their own statements on file in our office are proof. You can try it for yourself without any risk—if it fails to give you absolute satisfaction your money will be returned. Brown's Digestit is a little tablet easy to swallow and absolutely harmless. It relieves indigestion almost instantly, stops food fermentation, prevents distress after eating and cures dyspepsia. You need it even though you are not sick—it aids digestion and gives you all the nourishment from your food—50c.

WISCONSIN GROWS 12 PER CENT OF NATION'S ENTIRE CROP, SAYS EXPERT.Madison, Wis.—Wisconsin has grown 12 per cent of the cranberry crop of the United States, according to O. G. Malde, a complete treatise, with illustrations, on cranberry bog construction, has been prepared by Mr. Malde and is being mailed free of charge by experiment station at Madison.Several million acres of marsh land are available in Wisconsin for growing cranberries. The success is obtained on acid peat marsh soil.By the old method profits were not always realized on cranberries, but the cranberry station has introduced methods tending to a more uniform crop, thus making cranberry growing a safer investment.DAUNTNER & SON

FAMILIES NEARLY WIPED OUT

From Grant Park to Cairo the State Is Swept by Storm—Cyclone Beats Boy and Girl in Buggy Race.Chicago, April 23.—One hundred killed, twice as many badly hurt and $1,000,000 property damage was the record estimated for the terrific tornado that swept Illinois and Indiana Sunday evening.Chicago escaped by a margin of less than fifty miles. From a point several miles this side of Grant Park, Ill., to the southern extremity at Cairo a whirling, death-dealing storm swept the state, killing some, maiming others and leveling houses as if they were made of cardboard.All day relief expeditions worked feverishly taking care of the injured and searching debris for others killed and hurt. In one case an entire family was wiped out with the exception of the father, just as they were eating their evening meal.

Tents Shipped by Governor.

Appeals for aid to Governor Denoon met with prompt response and hundreds of tents were shipped to the stricken districts, while physicians, surgeons and nurses were recruited to save the lives of those who escaped death only to lie bruised and bleeding amid the debris of their former homes.Not until the entire country swept by the storm has been carefully examined will the full death list be known. Isolated farmhouses have been destroyed and their occupants killed and injured. The battered and bruised body of a strange man was found lying in Momence river, near Grant Park.Bush, Kewanee, West Frankfort, Campus, Grant Park, Willsville, Mur-rhyshoro, Freeman, Limestone and Lowell, Ill., and various towns in Indiana, were nearly swept from the map.where persons were driving when the storm struck them. Near Morocco, Ind., Miss Meta Hamlin and Bruce Hanger were in a buggy, racing to get home ahead of the storm. They lost the race, and when rescuers came along the road later they found both of them with their clothing hanging in shreds, lying among the wreckage of the buggy, while the horse had disappeared. The whirling storm had picked buggy, occupants and horse up as if they had been straws, hurled them 100 feet from the road and flung them into a gully. Both the persons injured will recover.Dr. H. F. Leedom of Morocco, Ind., who came to Chicago, told of the deaths of nine persons at and near Morocco. Together with Dr. C. E.
Triplett he drove for miles through the devastated country in an automobile, ministering to the sufferers.At Campus, Ill., Nelson Husle, his wife and their oldest daughter were all killed when their house crashed down upon them, and two other children were badly injured.Mrs. David Jay of Kankakee, her

riage when rain and hail began to fall and all took refuge in a deserted stone house near the Grundy county line.
They were scarcely in doors when the cyclone struck the building, lifted the roof and hurled it down on them, and blew in part of the walls.Mrs. Jay was almost instantly killed and her mother, Mrs. Hawkins, was so badly injured that she is expected to die. A piece of plank, part of the roof, was driven into her chest and penetrated her lungs.Every other member of the party was more or less injured, and only prompt surgical attention saved the life of a young man in the party who was badly cut.The village of Bush, in Williamson county, was almost entirely razed.
Eighteen were killed outright and several others died after being removed to hospitals in St. Louis.Seventy-five houses, the hotel, post office, mining company's office and the railroad roundhouse were all torn from their foundations and hurled to the ground.Five persons were killed in one house, the home of Section Foreman Campbell of the Iron Mountain railway.At Willsville the coal company's buildings and two rows of twenty-five houses were swept flat to the ground, several miners being killed.William Gambetti and his two daughters were crushed to death when their Old Resident Died.

Milton McAnly, one of Ashton's oldest citizens, passed away at the home of his daughter, Mrs. M. M.
Billmire last Wednesday, April 17, at 5:45 p. m. Mr. McAnly had been sick a long time and gradually grew weaker, but had been a patient sufferer until the end came. He is survived by three children: Charles McAnly of Rockford; Joseph of Chana and Mrs. M. M. Billmire of this city. The funeral was held Friday at 2 p. m. at the Billmire home and the remains were accompanied by the relatives to Mt. Morris on Saturday for burial at that place. The funeral sermon was preached by Rev.
Alex. English.

M'CLANAHAN FUNERAL WED. AFTERNOON

REV. F. D. ALTMAN, PASTOR OF LUTHERAN CHURCH, TO OFFICIATE.

The funeral of Mrs. V. D. McClanahan, who died at Peoria Sunday, and whose remains were brought to Dixon last evening, will be held on Wednesday at 2 p. m., at the Morris & Preston chapel, Rev. Altman, pastor of the Lutheran church, officiating. Burial will be at Oakwood cemetery.

Jessie M. Kested was born near Ashton March 11, 1870, where she lived with her parents until March 23, 1898, when she was married to Victor D. McClanahan and removed to a farm in Palmyra township. They resided in Palmyra until ten years ago, when they moved to South Dixon, where the family has since lived. She is survived by her husband and three children, one son dying three years ago. The surviving children are Olive, Edna and Gladys. Mrs. McClanahan was an estimable woman in every way, a loyal wife and mother, and countless friends will extend sincerest condolence to the bereaved family.

ISLAND TROUBLE.

Rock Island, Apr. 23.—Indictments charging assault with intent to murder were returned in the circuit court Monday against Harry M. McCaskrin, republican nominee for states attorney; E. H. Gardner, a socialist editor, and Phil H. Wells, a justice of the peace, who are alleged to have contributed to the inciting of the mob that three weeks ago attacked the city hall, causing a clash with the police which resulted in the killing of two persons and wounding of nine others.

Wells and McCaskrin arranged to furnish bonds of $7500 each, but Garner, whose bail was fixed at the same amount, went to the county jail.

DIXON FIREMEN HOLD ANNUAL HOSE TEST

COMMISSIONER GANNON BELIEVES CITY WILL SOON HAVE POWER VEHICLE.

The Dixon firemen today gave the hose the annual test. Every length was tested at 160 pounds direct air pressure and the results show that the hose is in excellent condition. All that is now needed to bring Dixon's department to a standard equal to any in the state is an auto fire truck and Commissioner Gannon is enthusiastically working for that equipment. It is very probable that before the summer is over the old hose wagon will be replaced with a modern power driven vehicle.

TITANIC IGNORED BY PASSING SHIP

Officer Says Unknown Vessel Was Nearby When Big Crash Came.

ROCKETS WERE SEEN BY IT

General Manager Franklin Admits He Withheld News of Disaster to Prevent Big Scare—Refused Ismay's Request to Stop Calls.

Washington, April 23.—Witnesses before the senate committee which is investigating the wreck of the Titanic revealed the following facts:

That there was a steamer, unidentified as yet, within five miles of the Titanic when it struck the iceberg and that the unknown vessel apparently saw the distress signals but did not come to the rescue.

That J. Bruce Ismay sent repeated wireless messages to the White Star office in New York asking that the liner Cedric be held to take the survivors of the Titanic's crew off the Carpathia and back to England.

That Ismay also asked that the White Star offices send "reliable men" to take the Titanic lifeboats off the Carpathia when that vessel reached quarantine.

That the White Star offices do not know the identity of the person who sent the message that all the passengers on the Titanic were safe and the vessel was being towed into Halifax.

That the White Star officers knew there were not enough lifeboats aboard the Titanic to care for the ship's company at one time.

Fourth Officer on Stand.

The information in regard to the vessel which was near the Titanic but failed to give aid was brought out when J. G. Boxhall, fourth officer of the Titanic, told of his unsuccessful attempts to attract the stranger's attention.

This ship, according to Boxhall, could not have been more than five miles away and was steaming toward the Titanic. So close was it, that from the bridge Boxhall plainly saw its masthead lights and side lights. Both with rockets and with the Morse electric signal did the young officer hail the stranger.

Captain Smith and several others in the vicinity of the bridge declared at the time their belief that the vessel had seen them and was signaling in reply. Boxhall failed to see the replies, however, and in any case the steamer kept on its course obliquely past the Titanic without extending aid.

Admits Holding Up Wreck News.

Washington, April 23.—Vice-President P. A. S. Franklin of the International Mercantile Marine and head of the White Star line affairs in America, appeared before the senate committee investigating the wreck of the liner Titanic.

He admitted that he had withheld news of the disaster from the public; that he had received the secret code message from J. Bruce Ismay, managing director of the corporation, asking that the Cedric be held to take back the survivors of the Titanic crew; that he had refused to allow this course to be taken and that he had issued reassuring reports after the rumors of the Titanic's sinking had reached New York. He said he had no facts on which to base these reassuring messages and that he had issued them solely to prevent a worldwide scare until the fate of the Titanic was settled one way or the other.

He emphatically denied that he or any other officer of the White Star line had sent the message received by Representative Hughes of West Virginia to the effect that the Titanic was being towed into Halifax and that all the passengers and crew had been saved.

Sure of Disaster Monday Evening.

One of the first questions asked Franklin was:

"When did you first learn that the Titanic had gone down?"

"I first knew that the Titanic had sunk at 8:30 p. m. on Monday," was the nervous reply. "The message was timed at 6:16 and was from Captain Haddock of the Olympic. He announced that the Titanic had sunk; that the Carpathia had taken 675 people from the lifeboats and rafts, and that the rest had gone down. He ended the message by saying that the Carpathia was on her way to New York with the survivors."

"What did you do after the receipt of this message?" he was asked.

"We had received rumors before that of the sinking of the Titanic and in absence of real messages from the ship our fears were to that effect. But we sent reassuring messages saying that the ship was safe. When the actual blow came it took us some time to pull ourselves together. Two other directors were with me at the time—J. P. Morgan, Jr., and Charles Steel. I took the messages then and went downstairs to the general offices of the White Star line, where the newspaper men were waiting. We gave them the text of Captain Haddock's message and they rushed away to their papers."

CHAPTER II.—Transcontinental train is taking on passengers. Porter has a lively time with an Englishman and Ira Lathrop, a Yankee business man.

CHAPTER III.—The elopers have an exciting time getting to the train.

CHAPTER IV.—"Little Jimmie" Wellington, bound for Reno to get a divorce, boards train in maudlin condition. Later Mrs. Jimmie appears.

CHAPTER V.—She is also bound for Reno with same object. Likewise Mrs. Sammy Whitcomb.

CHAPTER VI.—Latter blames Mrs. Jimmie for her marital troubles. Classmates of Mallory decorate bridal berth.

CHAPTER VII.—Rev. and Mrs. Temple start on a vacation. They decide to cut loose and Temple removes evidence of his sailing.

CHAPTER VIII.—Marjorie decides to let Mallory proceed alone, but a lun starts while they are lost in farewell.

CHAPTER IX.—Passengers join Mallory's classmates in giving couple wedding hazing.

CHAPTER X.—Marjorie is distracted over their situation.

CHAPTER XI.—Ira Lathrop, woman-hating brute, discovers an old sweetheart, Anne Battle, a fellow passenger.

CHAPTER XII.—Mallory vainly hunts for a preacher among the passengers.

CHAPTER XIII.—Mrs. Wellington hears Little Jimmie's voice. Later she meets Mrs. Whitcomb.

CHAPTER XIV.—Mallory reports to Marjorie his failure to find a preacher.

CHAPTER XV.—They decide to pretend a quarrel and Mallory finds a vacant berth.

CHAPTER XVI.—Mrs. Jimmie discovers Wellington on the train.

CHAPTER XVII.—Mallory again makes an unsuccessful hunt for a preacher.

CHAPTER XVIII.—Dr. Temple poses as a physician. Mrs. Temple is induced by Mrs. Wellington to smoke a cigar.

CHAPTER XIX.—Sight of preacher on a station platform raises Mallory's hopes, but he takes another train.

CHAPTER XX.—Missing hand baggage compels the couple to borrow from passengers.

CHAPTER XXI.—Jimmie gets a cinder in his eye and Mrs. Jimmie gives first-aid. Coolness is then resumed.

CHAPTER XXII.—Still no clergyman. More borrowing.

CHAPTER XXIII.—Dr. Temple puzzled by behavior of different couples.

CHAPTER XXVI.—Marjorie tries to induce the conductor to hold the train so she can shop.

CHAPTER XXVII.—Marjorie's dog is missing. She pulls the cord, stopping the train. Conductor restores dog and lovers quarrel.

CHAPTER XXVIII.—Lathrop wires for a preacher to marry him and Miss Gattie. Mallory tells Lathrop of his predicament and arranges to borrow the preacher.

CHAPTER XXIX.—Kitty Lewellyn, former sweetheart of Mallory's, appears and arouses Marjorie's jealousy.

CHAPTER XXXIV.

The Complete Divorcer.

The other passengers were growing nervous with their own troubles. The next stop was Reno, and in spite of all the wit that is heaped upon the town, it is a solemn place to those who must go there in purgatorial penance for matrimonial error.

Some honest souls regard such divorce-emporiums as dens of evil, where the wicked make a mockery of the sacrament and assault the foundations of society, by undermining the home. Other equally honest souls, believing that marriage is a human institution whose mishaps and mistakes should be rectified as far as possible, regard the divorce courts as cities of refuge for ill-treated or ill-mated women and men whose lives may be saved from utter ruin by the intervention of high-minded judges.

But, whichever view is right, the ordeal by divorce is terrifying enough to the poor sinners or martyrs who must undergo it.

Little Jimmie Wellington turned pale, and stammered, as he tried to ask the conductor casually:

"What kind of a place is that Reno?"

The conductor, somewhat cynical from close association with the divorce-mill and its grist, grinned:

"That depends on what you're leaving behind. Most folks seem to get enough of it in about six months."

Then he went his way, leaving Wellington red, agape and perplexed. The trouble with Wellington was that he had brought along what he was leaving behind. Or, as Ashton impudently observed: "You ought to enjoy your residence there, Wellington, with your wife on hand."

The only reprieve that Wellington

Wellington looked from the crowded card to the zealous face. "Divorce Outfitters, eh? I don't quite get you."

"Well, in the first place—"

"The first place, eh? You're from New York?"

"Yes, originally. How did you know it? By my fashionable clothing?"

"Yes," laughed Wellington. "But you say I need you. How?"

"Well, you've got maybe some beggeth, some trunks—yes?"

"Yes."

"Well, in the first place, I am an expressman. I deliver 'em to your address—yes? Very nice?"

"I haven't got any yet."

"Also I am an addressman. Do you want it a nice hotel?—or a fine house?—or an apartment?—or maybe a boarding-house?—yes? How long do you make a residence?"

"Six months."

"No longer?"

"Not a minute."

"Take a fine house, don't. I got some beauties just wanted."

"For a year?—no thanks."

"All the leases in Reno run for six months only."

"Well, I'd like to look around a little first."

"Good. Don't forget us. You come out here for six months. You want maybe a good quick divorce—yes?"

"The quickest I can get."

"Do you want it confidential? or very nice and noisy?"

"What's that?"

"We are press agents and also suppress agents. Some likes 'em one way, some likes 'em another. Vich do you want it?"

"Quick and quiet."

"Patience divorce is our specialty. If you pay me an advance deposit now, I file your claim de minute de train stops and your own wife don't know you're divorced."

"I'll think it over," said Wellington, rising with resolution.

"Don't forget us. Baumann and Blumen. Satisfaction guaranteed or your wife refunded. Avoid substitutes." And then, seeing that he could not extract any cash from Little Jimmie, Mr. Baumann descended upon Mallory, who was just finishing his shave. Laying his hand on Mallory's arm, he began:

"Excuse, please. Can I sit you out vit a nice divorce?"

"Divorce?—me!—that's good," laughed Mallory at the vision of it. Then a sudden idea struck him. It took no great genius to see that Mr. Baumann was not a clergyman, but there were other marriage to be had. "You don't perform marriages, do you?" he asked.

Mr. Baumann drew himself up: "Who says I don't? Ain't I a justice of the peace?"

Mallory put out his hand in welcome: then a new anxiety chilled him. He had a license for Chicago, but Chicago was far away: "Do I need a license in Nevada?"

"Why shouldn't you?" said Mr. Baumann. "Don't all sorts of things got to have a license in Nevada, saloons, husbands, dogs—"

"How could I get one?" Mallory asked as he went on dressing.

"Ain't I got a few vit me? Do you want to get a nice re-marriage license?"

"Re-marriage?—huh!" he looked round, and, seeing that no one else was near: "I haven't taken the first step yet."

Mr. Baumann loved his hands in one another: "A betchelor? Ah, I see you want to marry a nice divorcee lady in R-reno?"

"She isn't in Reno and she has never been married, either."

This simple statement seemed to astound Mr. Baumann:

"A betchelor marry a maiden!—in Reno!—oh, oh, oh! It hasn't been done yet, but it might be."

Mallory looked him over and a twinge of distaste disturbed him: "You furnish the license, but—er—ah—Is there any chance of a clergyman—a Christian clergyman—being at the station?"

"Vy do you want it a clergyman? Can't I do it just as good? Or a nice fat alderman I can get you?"

Mallory pondered: "I don't think she'd like anything but a clergyman."

"Well," Baumann confessed, "a lady is liable to be particular about her first marriage. Anyway I sell you de license."

"All right."

Mr. Baumann whipped out a portfolio full of documents, and as he searched them, philosophized: "A man ought always to carry a good marriage license. It might be he should need it in a hurry." He took a large iron seal from his side-pocket and stamped the paper and then, with fountain pen poised, pleaded: "Vat is the names, please?"

"Not so loud!" Mallory whispered. Baumann put his finger to his nose, wisely: "I see, it is a confidential marriage. Sit down once."

When he had asked Mallory the necessary questions and taken his fee, he passed over the document by which the sovereign state of Nevada graciously permitted two souls to be made more or less one in the eyes of the law.

"Here you are," said Mr. Baumann. "Vit dat you can get married anywere in Nevada."

Mallory realized that Nevada would be a thing of the past in a few hours more and he asked:

"It's no good in California?"

"Himmel, no. In California you bot gotta go and be examined."

"Examined?" Mallory gasped, in dire alarm.

"Vit questions, poissionally," Mr. Baumann hastened to explain.

"Oh!"

"In Nevada," Baumann insinuated, still hopeful, "I could marry you myself—now, right here."

"Could you marry us in this smoking room?"

"In a cattle car, if you want it."

"It's not a bad idea," said Mallory. "I'll let you know."

Seeing Marjorie coming down the aisle, he hastened to her, and hugged her good-morning with a new confidence.

Dr. and Mrs. Temple, who had returned to their berth, witnessed this greeting with amazement. After the quarrel of the night before surely some explanation should have been overheard, but the puzzling Mallorys flew to each other's arms without a moment's delay. The mystery was exciting the passengers to such a point that they were vowing to ask a few questions point blank. Nobody had quite dared to approach either of them, but frank curiosity was preferable to nervous prostration, and the secret could not be kept much longer. Fellow-passengers have some rights. Not even a stranger can be permitted to outrage their curiosity with impunity forever.

Seeing them together, Mrs. Temple watched the embrace with her daily renewal of joy that the last night's quarrel had not proved fatal. She nudged her husband:

"See, they're making up again."

Dr. Temple was moved to a violent outburst for him: "Well, that the darnedest bridal couple—I only said darn, my dear."

He was still more startled when Mr. Baumann, cruising along the aisle, bent over to murmur: "Can I fix you a nice divorce?"

Dr. Temple rose in such an attitude of horror as he assumed in the pulpit when denouncing the greatest curse of society, and Mr. Baumann retired. As he passed Mallory he cast an appreciative glance at Marjorie and, tapping Mallory's shoulder, whispered: "No wonder you want a marriage license. I'll be in the next car, should you need me." Then he went on his route.

Marjorie stared after him in wonder and asked: "What did not person mean by what he said?"

"It's all right, Marjorie," Mallory explained, in the highest cheer: "We can get married right away."

Marjorie declined to get her hopes up again: "You're always saying that."

"But here's the license—see?"

"What good is that?" she said; "there's no preacher on board."

"But that man is a justice of the peace and he'll marry us."

Marjorie stared at him incredulously: "That creature!—before all these passengers?"

"Not at all," Mallory explained. "We'll go into the smoking room."

Marjorie leaped to her feet, aghast: "Elope two thousand miles to be married in a smoking room by a Yiddish drummer! Harry Mallory, you're crazy."

Put just that way, the proposition did not look so alluring as at first. He sank back with a sigh: "I guess I am. I resign."

He was as weary of being "foiled again" as the villain of a cheap melodrama. The two lovers sat in a twilight of deep melancholy, till Marjorie's mind dug up a new source of alarm:

"Harry, I've just thought of something terrible."

"Let's have it," he sighed, dreadingly.

"We reach San Francisco at midnight and you sail at daybreak. What becomes of me?"

Mallory had no answer to this problem, except a grim: "I'll not desert you."

"But we'll have no time to get married."

"Then," he declared with iron resolve, "then I'll resign from the army."

Marjorie stared at him with awe. He was so wonderful, so heroic. "But what will the country do without you?"

"It will have to get along the best it can," he answered with finality. "Do you think I'd give you up?"

But this was too much to ask. In the presence of a ruined career and a heroless army, Marjorie felt that her own scruples were too petty to count. She could be heroic, too.

"No!" she said, in a deep, low tone. "No, we'll get married in the smoking room. Go call your drummer!"

This opened the clouds and let in the sun again with such a radiant blaze that Mallory hesitated no longer. "Fine!" he cried, and leaped to his feet, only to be detained again by Marjorie's clutch:

"But first, what about that bracelet?"

"She's got it," Mallory groaned, slumping from the heights again.

"Do you mean to say she's still wearing it?"

"How was I to get it?"

"Couldn't you have slipped into her car last night and stolen it?"

"Good Lord, I shouldn't think you'd want me to go—why, Marjorie—I'd be arrested!"

But Marjorie set her jaw hard: "Well, you get that bracelet, or you don't get me." And then her smouldering jealousy and grief took a less hateful tone: "Oh, Harry! she wailed, "I'm so lonely and so helpless and so far from home."

"But I'm here," he urged.

"You're farther away than anybody," she whimpered, huddling close to him.

"Poor little thing," he murmured, soothing her with voice and kiss and caress.

"Put your arm round me," she cooed, like a mourning dove, "I don't care if everybody is looking. Oh, I'm so lonely."

"I'm just as lonely as you are," he pleaded, trying to creep into the company of her misery.

"Please marry me soon," she implored, "won't you, please?"

"I'd marry you this minute if you'd say the word," he whispered.

"I'd say it if you only had that bracelet," she sobbed, like a tired child. "I should think you would understand my feelings. That awful person is wearing your bracelet and I have only your ring, and her bracelet is ten times as big as my ring, boo-hoo-hoo!"

"I'll get that bracelet if I have to chop her arm off," Mallory vowed.

The soba stopped short, as Marjorie looked up to ask: "Have you got your sword with you?"

"It's in my trunk," he said, "but I'll manage."

"Now you're speaking like a soldier," Marjorie exclaimed, "my brave, noble, beautiful, fearless husband, I'll tell you! That creature will pass through this car on her way to breakfast. You grab her and take the bracelet away from her."

"I grab her, eh?" he stammered, his heroism wavering a trifle.

"Yes, just grab her."

"Suppose she hasn't the bracelet on?" he mused.

"Grab her anyway," Marjorie answered, fiercely. "Besides, I've no doubt it's wished on." He said nothing. "You did wish it on, didn't you?"

"No, no—never—of course not—" he protested. "If you'll only be calm. I'll get it if I have to throttle her."

Like a young Lady Macbeth, Marjorie gave him her utter approval in any atrocity, and they sat in ambush for their victim to pass into view.

They had not had their breakfast, but they forgot it. A dusky waiter went by chanting his "Lass call for breakfast in Rining Bar." He chanted it thrice in their ears, but they never heard. Marjorie was gloating over the discomfiture of the odious creature who had dared to precede her in the acquaintance of her husband-to-be. The husband-to-be was miserably wishing that he had to face a tribe of bolo-brandishing Moros, instead of this trivial girl whom he had looked upon when her cheeks were red.

WEST BROOKLYN NEWS

Well, Saturday we had another election.

Subsribe for the West Brooklyn News, $1.50 per year.

For the daily price of a cigar you can have a life insurance policy of $1000. Don't that interest you? Well, then call at the bank today.

The Forrester's big initiation will occur on Sunday, April 28th. It will be one of the biggest days in the Forrester history of West Brooklyn.

The seething has been delayed considerably since the advent of the snow storm of Wednesday.

Peter J. Soudgeroth was in town transacting business Saturday morning.

Miss Anna McCormick and Kathryn Long went to Harmon Friday night for a couple of days visit with their parents.

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Gehant were visitors in West Brooklyn Saturday forenoon.

Mrs. F. M. Yocum was called to Conway, Ia., Friday evening by the death of her brother, William Cooper, who is well known here. The deceased has been ill for a long time with catarrh of the stomach, which became very severe of late and brought on his sudden death. We extend to the relatives and friends our sincere sympathy.

James A. Phelan transacted business in this village Friday.

Once again on Saturday Ed's and Frank's places were awfully quiet. That is one of the dark sides to these frequent elections.

C. C. Weber was in town from South Brooklyn on business Friday.

Miss Nina Staup of Amboy returned to her home on the evening passenger Friday after visiting for a week with her relatives in this vicinity.

The Hutton Comedy Company who have been appearing at the local opera house for the past ten days have more than made good with the local goers and leave here with the good will and wishes of their audiences.

A. J. Fuller was in town doing business Saturday morning.

George J. Thier went down to Amboy Friday night to attend an alumni banquet given by the Amboy High school.

Julius Dehotal was in town from Viola on Saturday morning.

Dolores Long went down to Harmon Friday night for a visit with her grand parents.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry S. Jeanguenat were visitors in West Brooklyn Friday.

Prof. J. L. Dolan was an evening passenger for Amboy Friday.

Breeders Gazette and the West Brooklyn News for one year at the special rate of $2.50.

Adolf Fisher of Elgin was in West Brooklyn on Saturday on business pertaining to his position as state organizer of the C. O. F.

Mr. and Mrs. Gust Wiser have left for France and are now sailing on the Atlantic. They left from New York City. We hope that they have a safe journey across the big sea and enjoy a good visit in their native land of France. They are not certain whether they will return to America or not but we rather believe that after a few months visit they will be anxious to return to America and Illinois.

Death respects no man's pocket book. Every horse that dies is a loss to somebody—if yours dies will it be your loss or the Insurance Company's loss? Better insure today in the National Live Stock Ins. Co. against death or loss from any cause. See Oliver L. Gehant, agent at West Brooklyn.

Lee county loses one of its prominent citizens in the death of Michael Maloney of Dixon. He has been a leader in public affairs for many years and no later than the day of his attack with paralysis was named as a delegate to attend the democrat state convention at Peoria.

The local court of Forrester's held a special meeting in the office rooms of the bank on Friday evening.

It is with regret that we learn of the confinement to his bed again of Andrew Huibsch with another attack of rheumatism. We hope his health will soon be restored to him in full and that he is again able to enjoy that much cherished asset by all mankind.

The Chicago Daily Tribune or Chicago Record Herald together with the West Brooklyn News for one year at $4.00.

Look at the little yellow tag on your West Brooklyn News. It will tell you to what date your paper is paid.

The Mrs. Maude Christiance restaurant in the Auchstetter-Oester building expects to open up for business Monday, April 22nd. The soda fountain and fixtures arrived on Friday night and were at once installed in their new home. With the new equipment this restaurant will be one of the finest in the county.

Chris Krahenbuhl was in town from Scarboro Friday forenoon.

Grant L. Edwards of Viola was in our city on business Saturday afternoon.

H. A. Parks of Minonk spent part of this week in West Brooklyn looking after his landed interests north of town.

Falcy Bresson was a visitor in West Brooklyn Saturday afternoon.

Will Oester and Will Glaser shipped a carload of cattle to Chicago on Thursday night. We predict that they will bring a good price as they were choice stuff.

Jacob Longbine was in town from South Brooklyn Saturday afternoon.

The Chicago Daily Journal and the West Brooklyn News for one year at the low rate of $3.50.

Mesdames W. J. Long and Oliver L. Gehant also Miss Eva Arnold went to Chicago Saturday morning for a day's visit.

Ed McEltyre was in town on Saturday to attend to some business affairs.

Miss Annis Abell visited on Saturday with her sister Nettie at Compton.

Mrs. Joseph Chaon returned home Friday night from Compton where she had been for a week helping care for her daughter, Mrs. Henry Glaser, who is at the hospital, recuperating from an operation.

Mrs. Chaon brought Mrs. Glaser's infant baby home with her.

Mrs. Frank Herman and daughter Mabel went over to Compton Saturday morning to visit for a day with Mr. and Mrs. Henry Chaon.

A. P. Case and son were in town Thursday evening.

Miss Geneva White went to Paw Paw Saturday and spent the day with her grandmother.

It seems with the successful close of the 1911 Lee County Farmers Institute that all our people have forgotten a very important part of the affair. That is to know whether they had money enough to pay expenses or whether they had a surplus. In this case the committee was very successful in getting subscriptions as well as in preparing a great programme so that the treasurer finds himself in possession of a balance of $123.70. This money belongs to the people who have aided the Institute and worked to make it a success with their work and financial donations. We would suggest that a meeting be called for some evening in the near future and some decision made as to the disposition of this sum of money. The receipts for the Institute amounted to $385.80 while the expenses and premiums paid totaled $272.10. Some persons subscribed money which was never paid, otherwise there would be a much larger balance on hand for disposal.

Jacob Graf has rented his farm south of town to Ed Hand and he will move to town together with his wife and son John. We would be much pleased to have the Graf family move to West Brooklyn and hope they can make up their minds to take up their residence in our midst. They are numbered among our very best inhabitants and have a friend in every person they meet.

John Untz was in town transacting business Thursday afternoon.

On account of the severe storm on Wednesday and Wednesday night the Hutton Comedy Company cancelled their engagement in the local opera house for that night, and decided to appear on Saturday instead. The storm would not permit any person to be out in it if he had any regard for his own feelings and comfort.

B. H. Prather, special representative of the Illinois Life Insurance Co. of Chicago, called upon the local agents on Friday. The Illinois Life have the best policy in existence and they exclude none of the companies when they make this assertion. Their policies guarantee your money absolutely while the other companies only promise.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry F. Gehant and Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Jeanblanc went to Chicago Friday where the latter three had their eyes treated and refitted by a specialist. It will be remembered that Mrs. Gehant found it necessary to wear glasses since the injury to her eye by having a spike strike into the eye ball. At the time an operation was necessary, besides several weeks' stay in a dark room. It is with gladness that her friends learn of the improvement of her injured eye and that her vision has improved wonderfully since the last test and since receiving the new glasses. Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Jeanblanc did not return home until Saturday night, but Mr. and Mrs. Gehant arrived home Friday night.

Louis Chaon was in town on business Saturday afternoon.

Nick Meister was in town on business Thursday afternoon.

The firm of A. M. Bieschke has redecorated the interior of the O. N. Daw meat market and now the place certainly looks handsome. Mr. Daw has a fine market and deserves the patronage of the people of this vicinity in appreciation of his efforts in furnishing us with a first class shop.

John Acker was in town transacting business on Friday.

Paul Eisenbaucher of Wesley, Ia., has rented the rooms above the meat market and will open up an office there this week. He is a nephew of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Berscheid and comes to this town highly recommended in his profession.

A meeting was called during the week for Sunday, April 21st, of the members of the base ball Association, to prepare for the coming summer and also to elect a new manager and captain for the ball team. As near as we could learn about the same line up will be there to represent West Brooklyn as last year.

Joe Graf was in town Friday on business.

Miss Lizzie Blackburn of Harmon visited on Friday with her two sisters and their husbands in West Brooklyn.

John Fassig was here from South Brooklyn Friday.

H. H. Danekas drove one of his livery rigs down to Amboy Friday afternoon.

Joe Bieschke was here from Viola Friday.

Henry A. Bernardin spent Thursday and Friday in Chicago where he busied himself buying another supply for the two stores.

Martin Halbmaier was here Saturday.

The Misses Carrie and Mary Berscheid were morning passengers to Aurora Saturday.

Gustav Haushaar was here Friday on business.

Xavier Gehant and brother Frank arrived Saturday from their Dixon home and visited with their many friends and relatives in this neighborhood.

The school election on Saturday for the purpose of electing a director for three years to fill the expired term of F. D. Gehant was a very close and exciting affair. The race was between E. E. Vincent and P. J. Soudgeroth, with the latter returned victorious by a vote of 24 to 30. It seemed for a time and until the time for the election that there would be only one candidate for the office in the person of Mr. Vincent but it appears Mr. Soudgeroth was working secretly for the office and was rewarded with the most votes. The board now consists of Georg Meister as president and W. J. Long as secretary with Mr. Soudgeroth as the third member. They are all good men in our estimation and we need have no fear but that our school affairs will be handled in a very capable manner in their hands and under their supervision.

Call No. 5, B. F. Shaw Ptg. Co., Dixon, when in need of job printing—letter heads, bill heads, envelopes, cards, etc.

As farmers in Canada are going broke and land prices tumbling no one will buy it. I have talked and advertised for ten years that only a third or less of either the Dakotas was good for farming and the good part of S. D. too high to buy. The last two crops show what is best. Cavalier county had crops in 1910 that paid for the land and also in 1911. 1912 promises much better and I will still give you a chance to pay for a farm with one crop. As an investment land here will pay better interest on $100 an acre than land in Ill. at the prices it is selling at as there so much of the rent has to be paid out for taxes, improvements and insurance. Having been here over ten years I predict Hundred Dollar land here in five to seven years. The farmers here are buying it and they are making money faster than any other farmers in the world.

Palmer home Saturday evening and the interest showed in the dance indicated that these affairs are happily appreciated. Games were enjoyed by those who did not dance. Mr. and Mrs. W. I. Palmer are very amiable entertainers and all guests attending have acquired the habit of always expecting a happy evening at their home. The spread was tasty and bountiful.

“IN A BAD WAY”

Many a Dixon Reader Will Feel Grateful for This Information

When your back gives out, Becomes lame, weak or aching; When urinary troubles set in, Your kidneys are “in a bad way” Doan's Kidney Pills are for sick kidneys.

Local evidence proves their merit. Mrs. C. Charlton, 77 Peoria Ave. Dixon, Ill., says: I was in poor health for some time and the result of disordered kidneys. My back bothered me a great deal, being very weak stiff and lame. I tried easily and had various other symptoms of kidney complaint. Finally I got a box of Doan's Kidney Pills at Leake Bros. Co.'s Drug Store and their use soon relieved me.” (State ment given April 14, 1909)

Confirmed Proof. When Mrs. Charlton was interviewed on January 5, 1910 she said “Doan's Kidney Pills brought permanent relief in my case. You may continue to publish my testimonial.”

For Sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

DEDICATE NEW M. E. CHURCH

German Methodist Clergymen From Central Illinois Points Gather in San Jose to Attend Dedication.

Bloomington, April 23.—German Methodists from central Illinois points went to San Jose to assist in dedication of a new church of that denomination. Sermons were delivered by Fred Munz, Cincinnati, and Rev. O. E.
Kriege, president of Wesleyan college, Warrenton, Mo. Ten Illinois clergymen assisted.

Governor Issues Aid Call.
Springfield, April 23.—Financial assistance from the state-at-large for destitute persons whom floods in southern Illinois have reduced to temporary pauperism was asked by Governor Deneen. The executive's plea was couched in an official proclamation. He acts in the capacity of the head of the Illinois branch, Red Cross society. The governor recites that receding waters in the flooded districts will bring desolation to numerous families and asks for a fund-at-large, to be used in mitigating suffering wherever found.

Offers Boy Farmers a Trip.
Mount Carmel, April 23.—Congressman M. D. Foster of this district has adopted a unique method of interesting the boys of the Twenty-third congressional district in the farm and at the same time developing in them a desire to remain there. He has announced that all boys in the district who wish to may enter a corn-growing contest, which he is going to inaugurate, and the one who raises the best corn on one acre of land will be given free transportation to and from the national capital by the congressman.

Five Poisoned Eating Veal.
Chester, April 23.—Five serious cases of ptomaine poisoning developed at the home of J. H. Buyatte, in Chester, and physicians are endeavoring to save the lives of the stricken. The victims are Mr. and Mrs. Charles Dolles of St. Louis, who are visiting here; Mrs. J. H. Buyatte, Leah Buy-atte and John Buyatte, Jr. The poison is thought to have been contained in a veal loaf, eaten at dinner.

Food Scarce, No Circuses.
Mount Carmel, April 23.—As a result of the drought last summer it is claimed by the circus men that circuses will be few in this section the coming season. The trouble is that there is not enough feed for the horses and other animals in this section. One circus man said that in going through one county he could not find enough stuff to feed for a day the circus he represented.

Woman Is Reported Killed.
Bloomington, April 23.—A tornado passed over Chatsworth, forty-four miles northeast of here, on the Illinois Central. Many buildings in the city were unroofed and store fronts blown in. The country farmhouses and outbuildings are reported demolished. Telephone wires are down. A report from Campus says Mrs. Nek-son Hulse was killed and two children injured.

First Communion Services at Duquoin.
Duquoin, April 23.—The annual first communion services of the Sacred Heart Catholic church were conducted by the pastor, Rev. Charles J.
Eschmann. The class included forty-eight persons. Bishop John Janssen of the Belleville diocese, will bestow confirmation on a class of about 100 here next Sunday.

Typhoid Fever Epidemic.
Springfield, April 23.—Half a dozen cases of typhoid fever in Virginia, Cass county, have resulted in an investigation into the cause by the state board of health. Chief Inspector C.
S. Nelson of the board has been detached to Virginia to inquire into the cause of the epidemic.

Arm of Delegate Is Broken.
Mendota, April 23.—While returning from the Democratic state convention at Peoria John Goetner of the firm of Madden & Goetner of this city fell at the Galesburg station on his left arm and broke it.

Young Boys Disappear.
Carmi, April 23.—Gilbert and Herman Puckett, aged eleven and fourteen respectively, wandered away from home and all efforts to find them have been unsuccessful.

Both Taft and Roosevelt Are to Make Speeches in Massachusetts This Week—Democrats Active.

Boston, April 23.—The political situation in Massachusetts is becoming more animated and interest in the presidential primaries April 30 is growing daily. Two Republican presidential aspirants are coming to the state this week and representatives of two of the Democratic candidates are at work. All the members of the Massachusetts congressional delegation, Republican and Democratic, with the exception of Senator Lodge, have come on to take a hand in the contest, and political speakers of both parties from other states will be heard this week. President Taft will make three speeches Thursday, and Colonel Roosevelt will be here Saturday. The La Follette supporters are active.

Congressman Henry of Texas, chairman of the committee on rules, with Senators Williams of Mississippi and Gore of Oklahoma, will speak here for Woodrow Wilson, while Congressman Curley, in charge of Speaker Clark's campaign, expects to have several national orators in the state before the end of the week. No Harmon or Underwood headquarters have been opened, but Congressman Peters has identified himself with the latter movement.

Apple Crop Short at Salem.
Salem, April 23.—The apple crop in this county will be very short, only about one-fourth of a crop. Pear and peach trees are in full bloom, with a promise of a big yield.

SUGAR AND FLOUR Have Both Taken An Upward Turn Within The Last Week.

The outlook for flour is that it may work a little higher and remain there until the new crop weakens the market (which will be August or September).

There seems to be no well defined prospect on the Sugar Market. The market is strong at present but no particular reason has been assigned that it should go higher, yet quite a few think it will.
